Sensation in the Situation in Pennsylvania.

PITTSBURG'S RECORDER REMOVED

Gov. Stone's Statement in Regard to His Action.

DIFFICULTY FOR QUAY

The sensation of the day in politics is the turn the situation in Pennsylvania has taken. Senator Quay, who had just succeeded in routing all his foes, and clinching his position with a sweeping victory in Philadelphia at the last election, finds himself confronted with a very lively revolution that has just broken out in the western end of the state.

It is headed by the executive of the state, Governor Stone, who apparently has allied his interests with those of State Senator Flinn, one of Senator Quay's most active opponents in the factional dispute that has convulsed the republican party of Pennsylvania for several years. The latest development is the governor's action in removing the recorder of Pittsburg, the executive officer of that city under the new form of municipal government put into operation by the last legislature. This official, Mr. A. M. Brown, was appointed by the governor last summer, much to the consternation of the Flinn faction and the delight of Senator Quay's follow-

Recorder Brown promptly began to clean out the Flinn men in the Pittsburg public offices. He made a number of summary removals and threatened others. All during the summer and fall Mr. Flinn has been trying to rearrange the deal in Pittsburg and experiently has now succeeded. been trying to rearrange the deal in Pittsburg and apparently has now succeeded.

The new recorder, appointed by the governor, is Mr. J. O. Brown, Mr. Flinn's chief lieutenant. It is supposed he will proceed to rehabilitate the machine his predecessor had started in to destroy, and will appoint anti-Quay men to the offices.

Senator Quay, who is in Washington, last night wired to Pittsburg that the removal of Recorder A. M. Brown was against his "earnest and repeated protest and advice, and I repudiate all connection with it or responsibility for its consequences, which may be far-reaching and disastrous."

Gov. Stone's Statement.

Gov. Stone's Statement. Governor Stone last night issued a long statement to the public, giving his reasons for the removal of Mr. A. M. Brown. The sum and substance of ms explanation was that Mr. A. M. Brown, who was holding an appointive office merely until a recorder could be elected, had used his office to build up a political machine and had discharged officials for political reasons.

The governor evidently realized that he would immediately be accused of attempting to build up a machine of his own and that the removal would be put upon political grounds for he anticipated criticisms.

that the removal would be put upon political grounds, for he anticipated criticisms of that kind by the following statement:

"I do this without regard to political results. All this talk about my securing promises that I shall succeed Senator Quay is absolutely false. I nave no agreement or arrangement with any person to support me for United States senator. I trust that those who know me will not believe that I would begin a campaign now for an office that does not become vacant until 1805.

or an omce that does not become vacant until 1905.
"If the desire to become United States senator influenced my official acts, I probably would not take this course. But I am quite sure that I would do as I have done if I positively knew that I would for this act never again receive political recognition of any left d' any kind."

Governor Stone's action was deprecated by his attorney general, Mr. Elkin, who is credited with gubernational aspirations. Mr. Eikin pleaded earnestly and long with the governor not to stir up the factional trouble in the western end of the state, but

It has been rumored in Pennsylvania for some time that Governor Stone was after the seat of United States Senator Penrose, whose term expires in 1903. To secure this plum he would of necessity have to deal with Senator Quay, and if the latter declined to drop Senator Penrose, would have to openly fight "the old man," as Mr. Quay is called by his followers. Many politicians think the governor has decided to go ahead with efforts to build up a political ma-chine which will enable him in the future either to do business with the senior Sen-ator from Pennsylvania, or, if the worst comes to the worst, to try a fall with him.

An Interesting Postscript. A very interesting feature of the governor's statement to the public is a postscript, which was added late last night.

"P. S .- Since writing the above letter there has been material for a postscript which I think should be added. I left Philadelphia yesterday for Harrisburg at 4:30. I found T. S. Bigelow, esq., or the car and we talked in a friendly way about Pittsburg matters. I told him it was my intention to remove Recorder Brown and gave him my reasons sub-Brown and gave him my reasons sub-stantially as above. He parted from me in apparent good humor. "About 10 o'clock last night a friend called somewhat excited to say that he had seen Mr. Bigelow, who had said to him in substance that if I removed Recorder Brown I would be ruined politically; that during the last legislature I demanded $200,000 for signing bills, but finally compromised for $150.000 which I demanded $200,000 for signing bills, but finally compromised for $150,000, which sum was paid me; that the papers had this story with cartoons all prepared to publish the moment I removed Recorder Brown. This message, being purposely sent me, I receive in the spirit it is sent, as a threat. I am neither to be influenced by bribes nor intimidated by posely sent me, I receive in the spirit it is sent, as a threat. I am neither to be influenced by bribes nor intimidated by threats. The story is false, I have never received a dollar from any person improperly. I defy this charge and all other false charges. I am not afraid of the papers or their cartoons. If they could ruin me I would have been ruined long ago.

WILLIAM A. STONE."

CHANGE WILL BE SWEEPING.

Complete Shake-Up in Pittsburg's City Government. PITTSBURG, Pa., November 22 .- For the second time within six months the city government of Pittsburg is about to undergo an entire change. Major A. M. Brown, appointed city recorder last April by Gov. Wm. A. Stone, has been requested to step down and out by the chief executive of the state, and J. O. Brown, formerly director of public safety under the old regime, will assume the duties of the office. The change in recorders will be followed by the restoration to their old places of the 100 or more city officials recently removed by Major Brown. The upheaval is the result of a fight for the control of the city government, which has been going on for nearly a year between the "stalwart" republicans and the old republican organization under the leadership of State Senator Wm. Flynn.

The letter of dismissal from the governor was received by Major Brown last night, and in the same mail came the notice to former Director J. O. Brown of his appointment. former Director J. O. Brown of his appointment. The new recorder's commission has not yet arrived, and he will hardly take the oath of office before next Monday, as he cannot qualify until after the approval of his bond by the governor. In the meantime the city will likely be left without an executive head, for the reason that the governor's notice of removal was effective upon receipt of it by Major Brown.

Maj. Brown was at the recorder's office for a short time today, closing up his affairs. Upon leaving he said he was no longer in office, and that Pittsburg had no recorder.

"It is an interregnum," he said. "There can be no recorder until my successor takes the oath of office. I came to the city hall this morning to see if there was anything I could do, but finding nothing, I left. Hereafter I shall be at my law office. I do not see that there is anything I can do in the recorder's office now."

The recorder's clerks were in the office during the day, preparing to follow their late chief in leaving the hall. It is possible hast the office may be closed until next Monday.

He was appointed second lieutenant of the 4th Infantry in October, 1861, and was brevetted captain and major for gallant and meritorious serv-ices in the battle of Antietam, Md., and in front of Petersburg, Va. He became col-onel of the 9th Infantry in June, 1897, and was retired at his own request in April, 1899, after thirty years' service.

Evangelistic Services.

The popularity of the evangelistic ser vices being conducted along non-sectarian and interdenominational lines at Chase's Theater every Sunday evening is attested by the fact that every mail brings numer ous requests for seats. Rev. George Buck er, pastor of Fletcher Chapel, under whose direction the meetings are held, has received many kind words of encouragement and cheer in the work he has undertaken and is grateful for many valuable sugges-tions. For next Sunday evening Rev. Dr. Robert Nourse has been secured. He will address the meeting upon the subject of "The New Evangel." The hymns will be thrown upon a screen and beautifully illustrated by Professor P. B. Murray. Haley's Orchestra will again discourse sacred selections from 7:45 to 8 o'clock, and accompany the singing of the hymns. Retirement of Officer Recommended.

Major Sylvester this afternoon recommended to the Commissioners the retirement of Mounted Sergt. George A. Hess of the Georgetown precinct. A pension of $50 a month was recommended. Major Sylvester, in forwarding the papers, spoke to the Commissioners in the highest terms of the Commissioners in the algebrait terms of the sergeant. He has been on the force about thirty-five years, during which time he has done a great amount of duty on horseback. A number of times he has acted in the capacity of lieutestant, and his duties, it is said, were always performed to the complete satisfaction of his superior officers.

Driver Thrown Brum Wagon. A Capital Traction ear struck one of the Senate mail wagons in Front of the post office this morning about 5:30 o'clock, and the driver of the team, J. C. Chase, twentythree years old, was thrown from his seat. One wheel of the wagon passed over him, but he was not badly hurt.

G. W. Turner of 304 Pennsylvania avanue southeast was in the wagon at the time of the accident, but was not injured. Mr. Chase refused to go to a hospital. The affair was purely accidental, Chase attaching no blame to the motorman.

Condition Improved.

Mary Smith, colored, fifty years old, liv-ing on Sheridan avenue, Hillsdale, became during the day, preparing to follow their late chief in leaving the hall. It is possible that the office may be closed until next Monday.

Director of Public Works Bigelow, who last night declared he would not serve losses. She was quickly restored to consciousness, and today she was reported to be much better.

As the time approaches for the new code to go into effect-its provisions being somewhat more stringent in the matter of divorce than is the present law-the number of applications for legal severance of marital bonds seems to increase. This afternoon James Franklin McCarter petitioned the Supreme Court of the District for a divorce from Clara May McCarter, to whom he was married December 29, 1893, at Wheeling, W. Va. The parties lived together until May 6, 1899, when, the petitioner alleges, his wife deserted him, assigning as her reason that she could not live away from her parents. Michael J. Keane represents the petitioner. Because she has discovered that her hus band was already married when he led her to the altar, Julia Jackson today asked the court, by her counsel, Campbell Car-rington, to annul and set aside her marriage with James Jackson. The wife al-leges that she has just learned that the wife by the former marriage is still alive.

Constitution Chapter Meets. The Constitution Chapter, D. A. R., held its November meeting Tuesday evening at the Portner, with Mrs. C. W. Pierce presiding. The subject of study for the evening, "The Division of Power Between the General Government and the States," was led by the regent, Mrs. J. Ellen Foster. An address was made by the recording sec-retary, Miss Boswell, on her personal expecity, and music numbers were contributed by Mrs. Lewis and Miss Pierce.

A flag was donated by Miss Prall—the flag which was among the first to be unfurled on the declaration of war with Spain.

Horse Drowned. There was a little excitement in the vicinity of 32d street and the canal this morn ing, caused by a horse falling into the water. Following the splash, persons, whose attention was attracted by the noise waited to hear an outcry. Some of them expected to hear a call for "help" or a cry of "murder," but no such outcry was heard nor were footsteps heard about the waterway until somebody appeared to make an investigation.

The horse was drowned and the police sent word to the contractor for the removal of dead animals. Today the body was taken from the water and sent down the river to the reduction plant.

Damaged by Fire.

Fire caused about $300 damage yester day afternoon at the house of Benjamin Steel, No. 303 E street northeast. The fire was caused by the burning of a sulphur candle in a closet. An alarm of fire was turned in, and the firemen reached the house in time to prevent a serious confia-

Ball and Banquet. A ball and banquet were tendered the

In the course of the evening it was announced that the financial and social affairs of the society were in excellent con-dition. Those in charge were: Reception committee—Mrs. J. Egioff, Mrs. H.
